Commencement Ode

O God of Truth, in whose right hand
The powers of heaven rest;
And in obeying whose command
Humanity is blest.

Up to Thy throne we lift our eyes,
And from our store and stock,
Bring forth our yearly sacrifice,
The firstlings of the flock.

Let holy fire, sent from above,
Upon those altars blaze,
And consecrate our gift of love,
To Thee, Thy Work, Thy Praise.

Out in the world, where passions rage,
May they still move, serene;
And from defilements of the age,
Lord, keep them ever clean.

And if in desert lands they stray,
Where Duty's paths are dim,
And Satan shows the smoother way
And bids them follow him.

Then may they lift their searching eyes
To where there shines, afar,
Beyond the everlasting skies
The Bright and Morning Star.

—J. L. HATFIELD, '62

Alma Mater

When e'er we take our book of mem'ries
And scan its pages through and through
We'll find no days that glow so brightly
As those we spent at old O. U.
Within our Alma Mater's portals,
We meet her children hand to hand,
And when there comes a day of parting,
Still firm and loyal we will stand.

Chorus

Alma Mater, Ohio,
Alma Mater, brave and fair!
Alma Mater, we hail thee,
For we own thy kindly care.
Alma Mater, Ohio,
When we read thy story o'er,
We revere thee and cheer thee
As we sing thy praise once more.

Our Alma Mater calls us ever,
And love of country has its claim,
The one but makes us prize the other,
And thus we cherish both the same.
When Alma Mater sends us forward
And in her name we stand in line,
Then we will serve the nation better,
For having gathered at her shrine.

COMMENCEMENT, 1922

Largest Class in History of Ohio Leaves Time Honored Halls of University

The largest class in the history of the university graduated from the school Tuesday, June 13, when 316 students received diplomas. Of this number 155 were four-year students and formed the senior class, while the remainder was composed of 150 two-year graduates, six three-year graduates, and five college of music graduates.

The only honorary degree was conferred upon Bishop Francis J. McConnell, Ph. D., LL. D., D. D., of Pittsburgh, Pa., who delivered the commencement address and was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology.

The line of march of the academic procession was from Ellis Hall, north along the east side of the campus, then beneath the long and historic row of McGuffey elms, and up the central walk to the Auditorium. The procession, contrary to the custom of former years, did not move off of the campus.

Bishop McConnell, as commencement speaker gave a scholarly address, using as his subject, "Social Imagination." "Social imagination," he said, "is the power to get hold of the unseen and make it real." The speaker stressed the fact that imagination was the most productive and creative faculty that the race possesses. The foremost place must be given to imagination; judgment is important, but it is not as great because it only marshals facts and does not create anything. There is need of introducing the scientific element into imagination as well as the social. The imagination that is revery or day dreaming was not meant, but that which is real and ascertains something. "War," said Bishop McConnell, "comes out of a dearth of imagination." The World War was an example of lack of imagination.

Baccalaureate

President Bryan Addresses Class of '21

"Ye shall know the truth and the truth will make you free."

Around this passage from the Bible Dr. E. B. Bryan delivered the baccalaureate address Sunday morning, June 11, to the graduating class at Ohio University, the largest senior class in the century and more history of the institution.

The Ewing Hall auditorium was crowded to the portals with the senior class, relatives and friends of the institution. The faculty sat upon the stage with Dr. Bryan and a few close friends, loyal workers for the betterment of the institution.

In opening his address, Dr. Bryan called attention to the fact that the presence of 150 four-year seniors attested to their belief in the value of knowledge and the value of truth. In further accounting for their presence he said: "They came to the university in the first place because they realized there is a close relationship between knowledge and power. They wished to put back farther and farther the barriers of ignorance."

"Noble mindedness consists of at least two things: open mindedness and active mindedness. One should have both to know the truth and to profit by its application."

"That person is free when he obeys the laws, when he completes the mission his Maker intended. He is free when he is doing his reasonable work. Anything is good when it is obeying the laws intended and made to govern that thing. The laws for those who obey the laws are not hard.

"If you have the right relationship to the source of all knowledge—God; if you realize the meaning of facts; if you know how to distinguish between facts on one hand and truths on the other, which are eternal and abiding; then you are in the way of knowing the truth and that will make you free."

"Cultivate the habit, the art, the grace of realizing the meaning beyond the facts and take heed in shaping the life ahead of you, making straight the highways of life; be brave, but be open minded and active minded."

Annual Alumni Convocation

Monday, June Twelfth

The annual Alumni Chapel exercises were held in Ewing Hall Auditorium, Monday, June 12. Judge L. G. Worstell, '88, presided for a portion of the exercises, relinquishing the chair to Carl D. Sheppard, '02, of Akron.

Reports of committees were first heard and accepted. Mrs. Anna K. Price, read the report of the Committee on Necrology. The report of the Auditing Committee was read by Clark E. Williams, '21. Resolutions of respect and sympathy for Dr. C. L. Martzloff were presented and unanimously endorsed. Many words of appreciation of the continued years of very faithful service which Mr. Martzloff has performed as Alumni Secretary were heard. The familiar sight of the secretary upon the platform and mingling among the returning graduates was one which all were denied this year.

Dr. J. L. Hatfield, '62, Ohio's oldest living Alumnus, was given quite an ovation when he arose to read a poem, "A Commencement Ode," which he had prepared especially for this occasion. Dr. Hatfield was followed on the program by Mac Slator Bethel, '14, who rendered two piano numbers with characteristic finish and technique. Many of the older alumni were called to the platform, where, after a hearty welcome of applause, they were forced to respond with short impromptu talks. Dr. W. W. Gist, '72, spoke most interestingly and at length of his college days.

Dr. Newman Bennett, '99, of Pittsburgh, favored the gathering with two vocal solos, which were enthusiastically received. Dr. Bennett was accompanied by Miss Mary T. Noss, of the University faculty.

President Bryan next presented the Class of 1922 to the Alumni. The speech of acceptance was made by Fred W. Bush, '92, who charged the seniors with their new responsibilities. The response on behalf of the seniors was made by Fred H. Johnson, Class President.

The feature and final event of the program was an enthusiastic and unanimous rising vote of esteem by all present tendered Dr. D. J. Evans, retired professor of Latin. Dr. Evans was on the platform at the time, but was unable to respond.

Alumni Luncheon

Two Hundred Present

The Alumni Luncheon was held at noon, June 13, in the Men's Union. Reservations were made for two hundred guests, but at the last minute extra tables had to be placed to accommodate those who had been late in securing tickets. Carl Dunkle Sheppard, '02, was the principal speaker. It is customary to choose the speaker from the class whose twentieth anniversary it is, and Mr. Sheppard was the representative of the class of 1902.

Mr. Sheppard suggested that one of the great works confronting college men and women today is that of leadership in moral reconstruction. There is a special duty, he said, devolving upon the graduate of state colleges, such as Ohio University.

A training in serving others is necessary to meet such leadership, and he suggested some such training as "college spirit". From this point of view athletics in college become an added necessity, and to further enhance this spirit he suggested that it might be feasible to hire a "professor of pep" In conclusion, he paid a tribute to the women and mothers of Athens who have aided so largely in making Athens and Ohio University a wholesome place for young men and women to go to school.

Judge L. G. Worstell, as toastmaster, called upon President Bryan, who spoke informally of the new plans which are being evolved for a bigger and finer Ohio University.

The annual reception of the President was held in the University Library at 3 P. M. President and Mrs. Bryan and representatives of the alumni and the Board of Trustees were in the receiving line. The Library was most beautifully decorated for the occasion and served admirably to accommodate the large number of friends and alumni who took advantage of the opportunity to meet Dr. and Mrs. Bryan.

Oldest Grad Comes Back

"Ten years ago I made up my mind that if I lived ten years more I would come back for Commencement, so I'm here, and now I think I will come back ten years from today," stated Dr. J. L. Hatfield, aged 83, oldest living graduate of Ohio University, Civil War veteran and member of the class of 1862. Dr. Hatfield expressed himself thus on the day of his arrival in Athens, after having traveled across the continent to attend the Commencement exercises. Mr. Hatfield resides in San Francisco, where he is a teacher in the Anglo-Japanese School. On his way east, Mr. Hatfield met his daughter, Dr. Lena Hatfield, in Chicago, both coming to Athens together.

Mr. Hatfield was originally from McArthur, Vinton County, Ohio, and came to the University the year after the future Bishop Cranston had entered college. He was a classmate of Dr. W. H. Scott, who later became president of the University. During the Civil War Mr. Hatfield was a member of the 90th Ohio regiment and saw service in the south in the Army of the Cumberland under General Thomas. For ten years Mr. Hatfield was Professor of Latin and Greek at the University.

After a tour of the campus Mr. Hatfield expressed great pleasure at finding the institution in such a prosperous condition. In his conversation he was reminiscent of his own college days in the late 50's. While he was in college he was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. At that time Beta Theta Pi was the only college fraternity upon the campus. He was personally acquainted with all of the charter members of the Delta Tau Delta chapter, which was founded at Ohio University during his last year at school.

Mr. Hatfield is as hale and hearty as most any one of fifty and is full of humor and apparently enjoyed his visit very much. We shall look for him back in 1932 and welcome him, in the meantime, as often as he can visit us.

Dr. Hatfield's "Commencement Ode" appears upon the cover page of this Bulletin.

Graduates Enjoy Annual Play of The University

A happy and appreciative commencement audience greeted "Officer 666", presented by the Ohio University, Department of Public Speaking, Monday evening, June 21, at Ewing Hall. The auditorium was filled with commencement guests and townspeople, graduates of other years mingling with graduates of recent years and former students in large number.

Before the play opened, Dean Chubb introduced the six intercollegiate debaters, Reed, Belcher, Beckert, Bolin, Shaver and Rowland, and presented them the key of the honorary debating fraternity to which they were elected, and diplomas for their excellent work in the past year.

The appreciation of the audience was freely shown and the many graduates and former students who have not had the privilege of enjoying Ohio University dramatics in recent years, left the auditorium highly gratified with the progress of the Department of Public Speaking under Professor Cooper.

President Bryan Reviews Work of Year

Progress Evidenced

In his brief address at the Alumni Luncheon on Commencement Day, President Bryan made mention of the activities of the year just closed.

He said that the attendance was about three hundred in excess of the previous year and that the students, in general, were a fine type of young men and young women, who seemed pleased with the purpose of the University to elevate the standards of scholarship and to maintain the same honorable position in the educational world which the University has enjoyed for more than a century; that, in visiting the alumni associations, he had had an opportunity to meet more than a thousand graduates and former students of Ohio University, and that he had been impressed with their fine spirit of loyalty and enthusiasm for Alma Mater, which is taking concrete form in the Alumni Campaign for a Memorial Auditorium; that, while it seemed desirable to make some changes on the Faculty, he had discovered on the whole a very strong teaching staff at Ohio University—one willing to cooperate with the administration in all good work. The Faculty was the first group of friends of the University to go "away over the top" in the Memorial Campaign.

The President called attention to the activities of the Trustees during the year—the purchase of the Davis property and the McVay property, and the purchase of the Masonic Temple, adjacent to the campus, which is used as a Men's Union. The Trustees are ready to advertise for bids for a new $200,000 gymnasium for men, and have strengthened the Faculty by the addition of a dozen well-trained and widely-experienced men and women.

He said that, with such cooperation on the part of all the officers and friends of the University, it is a delightful task to be charged with the responsibility of the general administration of the University, and that, while the year had been a heavy one, he had come through it intact physically and he hoped mentally and with high courage for the new year ahead.

Senior Day Program

At ten o'clock Monday, June 12, the annual Senior Day exercises were held in the Auditorium. It had been planned to hold the exercises upon the campus, but inclement weather prevented. The program was opened with a duet by Rachel and Mary Johnson. Then followed the class prophesy by Marie Hope; the class will, by Virginia

Powell; the senior charge, by Fred Johnson, class president; junior acceptance, by William Walsh, junior president; remarks by class advisor, Dean Voight; presentation of $500 for the University Chimes as a class memorial, Marie Jewett; class farewell, Elizabeth Herbert. The exercises were concluded by the singing of the song of the class of 1922.

Belcher Makes Great Record As a Student

Paul E. Belcher, '22, Gallipolis, O., who graduated in June with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, has made the most remarkable scholastic record in the long history of Ohio University, and altogether was a most remarkable student. He will pursue further studies in another university, seeking higher degrees.

Belcher, in his four years of collegiate work, secured an average of "A" in every course. From his first month in school he taught both as a member of the faculty and as a private tutor. He was a member of the wrestling and debating teams, wrote for magazines and "made" Torch, Science Club, Booklovers' Club, and other clubs without end. As a climax to a brilliant college career he married an Ohio University girl in his senior year, and with it all he is a modest and regular fellow. We say more power to you, Paul.

You'll Have To Hurry

If you are a young lady contemplating a return to Ohio University next fall and want to be located in one of the Ohio dormitories, you may be disappointed if you don't take ten in hand immediately.

There is evidence of the growing interest and attendance at Ohio University in the fact that since May 1, applications for the fall term in September have been on file for every available room in the University dorms and sub-dorms. Since it is possible that some of those who have applied will not register in school this fall, a waiting list has been established, from which vacancies will be filled. There are now over one hundred on that list.

Dean Voight informs the Alumni Office that any one desiring a place on the waiting list should notify her immediately and forward the usual $5.00 retaining fee. All rooms are assigned in order of the receipt of the application, thereby eliminating any question of discrimination.

The New Secretary

CLARK E. WILLIAMS

Following the resignation, due to illness, of Dr. Martzloff, Mr. Clark E. Williams, '21, has been elected Alumni Secretary. Mr. Williams is an Athens man, well known in the town and on the campus. During his college course he was active in many fields of undergraduate effort. He was a member of the English Club, the History Club, the Green and White staff and Torch. As President of his Senior Class, he made a record for efficient leadership which we on the campus are likely to remember. During the past year he has been teaching commercial subjects at the Athens High School and he had been re-engaged with an increase of salary. We are able to assure the Alumni of their great good fortune in securing the services of Clark Williams, and we are confident that with the warm support of the administration and the enthusiastic cooperation of the Alumni he will do big things for Ohio University.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,
OHIO UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Men's Union

Control Affairs of Men

A long-felt campus need was met when the upper classmen, after an intensive study of similar organizations, drew up a plan and constitution for a men's organization to be known as the Men's Union of Ohio University. The constitution has been ratified and an organization effected. The officers: President, George Stuart, Nelsonville, Ohio; Vice-President, Ralph Bechert, Piqua, Ohio; Secretary, James Hawkins, Athens, Ohio; Treasurer, Rowland Welsh, Geneva, Ohio.

Some of the more important features of the organization are three new advisory boards: Campus Activity Board, Athletic Advisory Board, and Senior-Junior Governing Board. The first board will have jurisdiction over all men student affairs in general, as distinct from athletics; e. g., Y. M. C. A., Student Point System, Campus publications, etc. The student members of this board are: H. W. Roach, Athens, Ohio; Robert Soule, Hamilton, Ohio; Dennis West, Cumberland, Ohio; Rush Elliott, New Concord, Ohio.

The Athletic Advisory Board will have control over all athletic matters in which men students are concerned (major and minor), including Song and Cheer Leaders, Student Managers and Assistant Managers. The student members of this committee are: William Walsh, Athens, Ohio; George Hickman, Lucasville, Ohio; Madison Humphrey, Geneva, Ohio; James Nolan, Bowerston, Ohio, and Charles Bell, Parkersburg, W. Va.

The last board will have jurisdiction over and the power to enforce all student government and regulation. To this board five seniors and three juniors were elected as follows: Earl Beckley, Athens, Ohio; Gilbert Shaver, Cheshire, Ohio; Warren Clements, Atlanta, Ohio; Amos Kincaid, Crooksville, Ohio; Craig Bond, Uhrichsville, Ohio; Homer Goddard, Wellston, Ohio; Earl Gillen, Jackson, Ohio, and James Rutherford, Bellville, Ohio. The names of the faculty members, appointed by Dr. Bryan to these boards, appear elsewhere in this issue.

FROM THE EDITORS DESK

The New Regime

With the passing of Dr. C. L. Martzolf from the alumni department a new secretary comes upon the stage. With the advent of a new regime a statement of policy and plans for the future may well be expected. As to policy, we may say that it will be that of maintaining a close and friendly relationship between the great body of alumni and former students and the University itself in whatever ways and by whatever means that friendship can best be fostered and maintained. Ohio University cannot function properly without the loyal interest and cooperation of its alumni. On the other hand, the University is not willing that her sons and daughters shall entirely forget their Alma Mater. With a full time, twelve-months-a-year Alumni Secretary it will be possible to increase the scope of influence and work of the alumni office. An effort will be made, through the alumni magazine, to keep all friends informed of the development and progress of the school, as well as to disseminate general alumni news. At no time in the history of the school has it been more the desire of the executive and administrative forces of the University to possess and to merit the confidence and cooperation of the alumni than now.

New plans for the alumni work will be announced from time to time. We will expand the work as rapidly as the interest and cooperation of the alumni will permit. Beginning with the new school year the official publication will appear monthly under a real name as a magazine. The form will be changed somewhat to accord with plans for its improvement. The financial basis for the publication of the magazine will be changed from the voluntary donation plan to the subscription basis. Announcement as to that will appear elsewhere.

The Ohio University

For years past many of our friends have not deemed us worthy of the respect and dignity of a respectful and dignified name.

We announce right now that the school we represent is "The Ohio University". That it is located at Athens is a fact, but that it should be called the "Athens University" is no more excusable than that our sister institution should be called the University of Columbus because it is located in the capital city. Ohio University has had a glorious past; a splendid future is foreseen. Why belittle her with a name that is not her own. We have heard the school referred to hundreds of times as "O. U.". Are initials used in referring to a respected friend? Perhaps the worst characterization of all is, "the summer school down at Athens". We are not a summer school; we are not a normal college—we are both, but far more than either. We are the oldest university west of the Allegheny Mountains. We are THE OHIO UNIVERSITY, and not "O. U." or any of the other characterizations. Does it hurt you to hear those names? Are you guilty of using them?

Heads Up!

The impossibility of getting the alumni memorial proposition before all of the alumni and former students in the short space of three months has necessitated the continuing of the campaign for another year. Confidence of the outcome is expressed on every hand. With the continued cooperation of the field workers and the efforts of the continuation campaign committee ultimate success seems assured. There is no cause for disappointment in the results achieved thus far. There have been no slackers among the county and state workers and the word from headquarters is "Heads Up—It's Going Across". Approximately two-thirds of the fund has been subscribed. The remaining one-third is our objective for the year. Have you heard the call? Are you helping to put it across?

An Old Friend Passes

The writer stood upon the balcony of East Wing and watched the giant limbs of the historic "Old Beech" crash to the ground as they were severed from the trunk of the tree by the workmen's saw. Many students stood about watching the operations, but few realized the attachment which we have formed for the tree or the significance of its passing. To them it was merely the clearing away of a dead tree—nothing more. Beneath the tree have stood presidents, governors, senators, bishops, soldiers, and scholars. On its limbs were carved the initials of Civil War veterans and upon its trunk was annually hung the honor rolls of our honor societies. The crowd watched out of idle curiosity. It passed unwept; it shall not pass unsung.

The New Basis

Beginning with the October issue in the fall the financing of the Alumni magazine will be upon a subscription basis rather than the hap-hazard, uncertain method of voluntary donations. For years the work of editing the bulletin has been a precarious one. It was rarely known in advance whether or not funds would be forthcoming for a subsequent issue. Announcement will soon be made of the regular yearly subscription rates. Alumni who are truly interested in the work of the association and the welfare of the school will welcome the change. The future plans for the publication embrace a change to the magazine form and one well worth the support of the alumni. When the time for the change comes you will be notified and asked to cough up the subscription price (which will cover membership in the association) and to help put the affairs of the association on a business basis. Don't let your subscription to the Memorial Fund interfere with your interest in the magazine and don't let your interest in the magazine interfere with your subscription to the Fund. One is as much your obligation as the other.

Try This on Your Victrola

Of course you can't, but don't you wish you could? This is the proposition. Ohio University should have its songs recorded for the phonograph. Schools all over the country are perpetuating their memory by means of song records. Ohio has but few singable college songs, but there are four or five that are dear to the hearts of every loyal son and daughter. A record with

"Alma Mater", "Stand Up and Cheer", and "Three Cheers for Old Ohio" would be a prized addition to the record list of any alumnus. Many requests and inquiries for records come to this office. The alumni department will gladly back the project if the alumni and ex-students support it with enough interest to assure an even break financially.

Win One

At a mass meeting of the men prior to the close of the regular school year each man agreed to try to win one more man for Ohio University. How about the alumni? You good friends of high school faculties You are the source of supply. Be ever on the lookout for a prospective, and seeing one, influence him to come to Ohio University. Tell him about the many excellent courses, the well-equipped buildings, the beautiful campus, and the democratic spirit of the student body. Win One.

What Do We Need Most?

Since the men's union has been established, plans laid for a new auditorium, and a new gymnasium assured, the question is, what is Ohio University's next greatest need? Students and faculty members have expressed opinions in answer to the question. What do the alumni say? Some proposals have been: a well-equipped and arranged library; a new system of enrollment and student advising; higher aim and academic requirements; a dean of men, and a dormitory for freshmen.

McVay Graduates in East

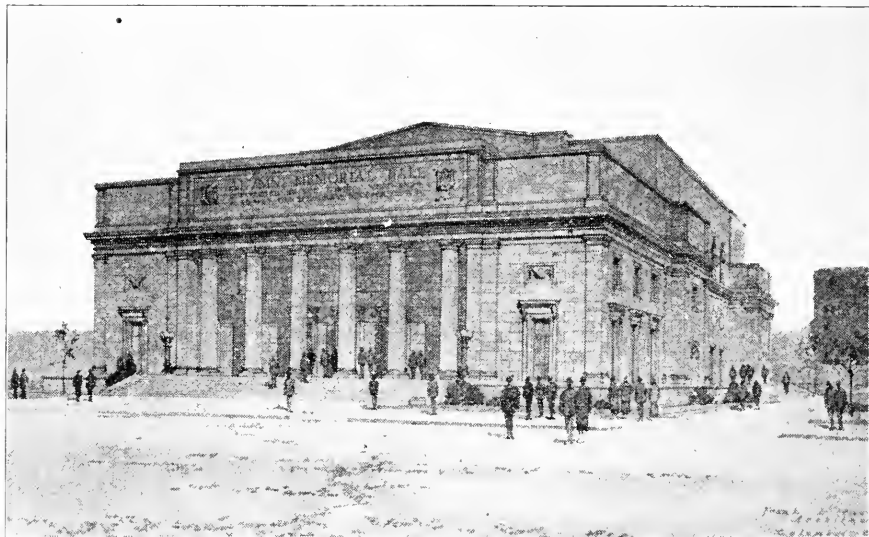

Martin Scott McVay, ex-'22, of Marion, Ohio, received his Bachelor of Science degree June 20, from Princeton University on the 122nd anniversary of his great, great, great, great uncle, Jacob Lindley, the first president of Ohio University. Mr. McVay has entered upon work with the General Electric Company in Schenectady, New York.

Edward Arpee, ex-'22, of Athens, was another member of the 1922 class at Princeton. Mr. Arpee expects to teach for a short time and will later enter the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, seeking his Divinity degree.

Ohio Alumni to Carry on With Campaign for the Memorial

Nearly two-thirds of the objective $300,000 for the building of the much-needed auditorium for Ohio University has been secured. The contract with the special agency which launched and furnished the plan for the campaign has been satisfied and it is now up to the alumni organization to "carry on".

To this end President J. P. Wood, of Cleveland, appointed a continuation campaign committee composed of Judge E. D. Sayre, Judge L. G. Worstell, President E. B.

ALUMNI MEMORIAL HALL

Architect's Drawing From Tentative Plans For Ohio University Alumni Memorial Auditorium

Bryan, F. W. Bush, C. H. Bryson, and Clark E. Williams, who met and selected Mr. Bryson as director of the campaign, which has been extended for the period of another year. Mr. Bryson will use the present organization with as few changes as may be possible. During the summer a general clean up of the work already done is being made and plans matured for the final stage of the campaign.

Many valuable suggestions are being received which bespeak both continued interest and confidence in the final outcome. The spirit of the new committee is that the work must be finished as planned, and they have confidence that with the loyal efforts and cooperation of all alumni that it can, and will be, triumphantly and speedily done.

It is not a mere building after all which we are striving for; but rather, our real goal is the launching of Ohio University definitely upon a new and distinct era of accomplishment. The future is full of promise.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Ohio Trustees Bring New Teachers

Board Organizes

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees was held in President Bryan's office, June 12. At this meeting the seven new members of the board, recently appointed by Governor Davis, were formally installed into office. Nineteen trustees attended the session out of a total new membership of 26. All the new members were present and one of these, Judge David H. Thomas, of Marietta, was elected vice-president of the board at its re-organization.

The most important business transacted by the board was election of faculty members for next year. Nineteen new members were added and three were received back from leaves of absence that had been granted them. Twenty-seven increases in salary, ranging from $120 to $400 a year, were authorized by the board. These increases were allowed to establish uniform salaries for all professors, associate professors, and instructors.

Some of the new additions to the faculty and the departments in which they will serve are:

James P. Porter, Ph. D., editor of the American Journal of Applied Psychology, and former dean of Clark University, department of Psychology; Harry G. Good, Ph. D., Colgate University, department of Education; Rayner McQuiston, Ph. D., Harvard University, department of English; O. C. Bird, formerly of the athletic departments of Oberlin and Ohio State Universities, comes to organize and head the School of Physical Education; L. E. Crossman, Ph. D., Marietta College, department of Economics; Mary Farnum, graduate of University of Wisconsin, comes from Lake Forest College to serve as Institutional Manager; LaVinia Warner, A. M., Columbia University, teacher of special classes in Training School; Elsie Druggan, Graduate nurse, superintendent of the Infirmary; Nellie DuBois and Virginia Currier, Teachers College, Columbia, instructors in designing; Janice Hahn, instructor in public school drawing; Elizabeth Earhart, instructor in public school music; Neil D. Thomas, instructor in civil engineering, and Ferol D Strickland, Decatur, Ill., instructor in John Hancock High School. The last four instructors are graduates of Ohio University.

Faculty members returning from leaves of absence are: Prof. I. F. Stewart, mathematics; Constance McLeod, head of kindergarten department, and Helen Reynolds, instructor in typewriting. Constance Leete has been secured to teach French during the year's leave of absence granted Miss Helen Hockenberry.

The board members attending the meeting were Hamblin, Davidson, Jones, Crow, Biddle, O'Blenness, Hopkins, Johnson, Hogan, Eikenberry, McVay, Appel, Bush, Collicott, Cookston, Sheppard, Thomas, Antrim, and President Bryan. The last seven named are the new members of the board of trustees. The oath of office was administered to these members by Congressman I. M. Foster, who was re-elected secretary of the body.

Dr. Bryan was designated president ex-officio of the board of trustees, which authorized him to appoint all standing committees for a period of one year. Committees will report at the next regular meeting of the board, which will be held Wednesday, October 4.

New Chapter

A new chapter of the Ohio University Alumni Association was organized in Lawrence County in May. The permanent organization was effected at the close of the Campaign Banquet, May 16th, at Ironton. The following officers were elected: C. B. Dillon, President; Miss Anna Jones, Vice-President; Mrs. Lillian C. Murdock, Secretary, and Miss Katharine Staab, Treasurer.

semesters are taking some work in Commerce. Of the entire schedule of the 264 different students in Commerce classes in the second semester, two-fifths was in Commerce. The total enrollment in Commerce classes in the second semester was 536 men and 138 women.

WHENCE THEY COME

Eighty-eight per cent. of the students in the Commerce classes this year are residents of Ohio, and they represent 54 counties. The remaining twelve per cent. come from two foreign countries and from eleven states other than Ohio.

COURSES

Students pursuing other courses are permitted to elect studies in Commerce and many of them take advantage of the opportunity. The prospective lawyer, doctor, engineer, farmer, or teacher, in many instances, appreciates the value to him of some knowledge of Accounting, Law, Banking, Finance, Marketing, and elects accordingly. Possibly one-fourth of the students in Commerce classes have this secondary interest in business. The larger group of three-fourths have a primary interest and for them two-year courses leading to a diploma, and a four-year course leading to a

I am asked, for the information of the Alumni, to make a statement for the Bulletin concerning the present status and outlook of the School of Commerce. Compliance with this request is not distasteful to me for I have reason to believe that a goodly number of those who have gone out from the University and are now distant from her Campus have an abiding interest in the department that gave them their present attitude toward or interest in a business career.

A few facts concerning numbers, courses, subjects, cooperation of business men, standards, and atmosphere will be enough for me to attempt at this time.

NUMBERS

The School of Commerce enjoys its reasonable share in the increased attendance. Approximately one-fifth of all the students registered in the University in the two degree (A. B. in Commerce) are offered.

The degree course in Commerce was first granted in 1920, when it was received by two men. In 1921 it was received by four men, and in 1922 by fourteen men and one woman. The number will be larger next year, as more than 100 students in the course are now working for the degree. It is gratifying to observe that there is a rapidly increasing number of young men and women who have come to realize that four years of college training and experience are as essential for the success of the person who engages in business as for the success of the person who engages in law, medicine, engineering or any other life service.

COOPERATION OF BUSINESS MEN

Friends of the School of Commerce among the business men of Athens made it possible last semester for Seniors in Commerce to receive actual business experience as a part of the degree course. These cooperating business men received such students as were assigned to them, for twelve hours of free office work per week during the semester, it being understood that the work done by the student during his employment would be as varied as the ability of the student and the working conditions of the office would permit. Weekly reports were made by the student of his experience, and a complete written statement was submitted at the conclusion of the service. Five semester hours of credit were given for the service when done to the satisfaction of the employer and the School of Commerce.

This experiment worked so well that it has been extended during the summer with a few out-of-Athens firms cooperating. Advanced students in Commerce are working full time for ten weeks in banks and are receiving a limited amount of credit. The experience they are receiving is a valuable supplement to the training they receive in our classes. The business men who are supplying the opportunity are making a valuable contribution toward the education of the men who will soon be leaders in business. The plan will be continued.

COURSES OF LECTURES

By the extension of another plan tried last semester, the students in Commerce are to be brought into still closer contact with actual business by having placed at their disposal courses of lectures to be given by competent men of affairs on their respective chief interests. The following four such courses of nine lectures each have already been arranged:

1. PRACTICAL BANKING, by Mr. F. D. Forsythe, Cashier of the Bank of Athens.
2. INVESTMENTS, by Hon. D. H. Moore, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Security Savings Bank, and the veteran banker of Athens.
3. ACCOUNTING FOR COAL PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION, by Mr. Clarence H. Horn, Office Manager for the Poston Coal Company.
4. REAL ESTATE TITLES AND TRANSFERS, by Mr. W. E. Peters, member of the Athens Bar and a specialist in Abstracting.

ADDITIONAL TEACHING FORCE

Professor George C. Parks, who left the Commerce faculty four years ago to serve as Auditor of the Cline Ice Cream Company, has come back to the University as Treasurer and Purchasing Agent. He will also be available for part time service in the faculty. His courses next year will be INCOME TAX, COLLECTIONS AND CREDITS, and OFFICE MANAGEMENT AND APPLIANCES.

The department of ADVERTISING AND MARKETING has grown to the point where it is thought wise to divide it into two departments. One will be the department of ADVERTISING, in charge of Mr. Noble C. Shilt, and the other the department of MARKETING AND FOREIGN TRADE, to be in charge of a competent man soon to be announced.

Other additions are under consideration.

ADEQUATE QUARTERS

The entire third floor of Ewing Hall has been assigned to the School of Commerce. The Art department, which has occupied a large part of the floor, is being transferred to the "Old Chapel", and the large room left by the Art department is being divided into two recitation rooms of good dimensions. According to present plans, there will be four offices and six recitation rooms on the one floor ready for Commerce classes when the school opens in September.

THE OBJECTIVES

The primary object of the School of Commerce of Ohio University is to make a useful contribution to the education of young people; to train them to work, to think, to evaluate, and appreciate. The secondary aim is to give the student a body of knowledge and a training that will prepare him when he leaves college to take a place in the business activities of the community and state, or that will be of large personal value to him, even though he does not enter upon strictly commercial pursuits.

These purposes, first, education, and second, special training, meet well the needs of every community and of the entire country. It matters not whether the community be residential, agricultural, mining, manufacturing, or marketing, it has its problems of taxation, finance, transportation, communication, costs, banking and many others of similar character. These are ever recurring business problems, and upon their solution the prosperity and happiness of people depend. The complexity of these pressing problems make it easy to understand why students of the public good are rapidly coming to understand that some business training is good for all and that the business man, like the lawyer, doctor, preacher, and teacher, needs both a general education and a specialized training.

Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of articles descriptive of the work being done in the various schools and departments of Ohio University. The work of the new School of Physical Education will be reviewed in an early issue.

Errata

Due to mistakes in proof-reading, several errors crept into the campaign booklet, "Old and Great and Loyal". The date when George Washington signed the patent for the Ohio Company, providing for Ohio University should read "May 10, 1792" instead of "October 27, 1787". The latter is the date of the contract of the Ohio Company with the Board of Treasury, and is set as the founding date of the University.

Another error is in the name of the first Governor of Ohio—Edward instead of Samuel Tiffin.

In the list of noted clergymen, the name of Bishop Moore was unintentionally omitted.

Torch and Cresset Announce

Elections Popular

Following a recital of the histories of Torch and Cresset Honorary Societies at the Senior Day exercises, May 31, the results of the annual elections were announced. Admission to Cresset requires the correct campus attitude, which is one of helpfulness and democracy, an average grade of not less than ninety per cent., and an aggregate of not less than twenty points in activities according to a rating which has been established by the joint efforts of Cresset and the Woman's League. Eleven girls were chosen: Clara Blume, Logan, Ohio; Mary Tener, Peebles, Ohio; Pauline Walden, Sciotoville, Ohio; Katherine Dague, Fredericktown, Ohio; Mary Bean, Newcomerstown, Ohio; Eileen Waggoner, Lakeview, Ohio; Jennie Polley, Struthers, Ohio; Elizabeth Walker, Braxton, W. Va.; Emma Veley, Delaware, Ohio; Irene Devlin, Athens, Ohio; Katherine Mumma, Fostoria, Ohio.

The purpose of Torch is to recognize campus leaders among the student body and to emphasize scholarship, undergraduate activity, and good campus citizenship. The men elected to Torch were: Robert Soule, Hamilton, Ohio; Amos Kincaid, Crooksville, Ohio; George Stuart, Nelsonville, Ohio; James Nolan, Bowerston, Ohio; Dewey Goddard, Amesville, Ohio, and Ralph Beckert, Piqua, Ohio.

The elections this year were very popular and were accorded the approval of the student body in general.

Crummit Grows Famous

Frank "Fat" Crummit, well-known singer and former Ohio University student, sang for the Rotary Club of Columbus recently at their meeting at the Deshler Hotel. Crummit has just closed a successful engagement in New York, where he was a co-star with Julia Sanderson in "Tangerine". Jackson, Ohio, claims him as one of the home-town boys and Frank acknowledges Jackson just as enthusiastically. Crummit has made more than 100 records. He is also the composer of the popular Ohio State University football song, "The Buckeye Battle Cry". Broadway reviewers credit Crummit with "having arrived" in the theatrical world.

THE SUMMER SESSION

Five Weeks Terms

The Summer School sessions of this year and the future will be conducted on a slightly different time basis. Instead of the regular Summer term of six weeks, five days per week, and the Continuation Summer term of five weeks, six days per week, there will be two terms of five weeks each. As in the former Continuation School, there will be six working days per week through the entire summer session. This change was made for the benefit of the students and teaching staff alike. In the past it has been found that the period between the closing of the Summer School and the opening of the public schools throughout the state has not been long enough to provide a season of rest and recreation for students and teachers at this time, also the school plant is usually overhauled and groomed preparatory to another year's run and the workmen are not afforded an opportunity to get in their work. In view of these facts the slight change in the length of the summer summer work was deemed advisable.

"Sob Buster"

All gloom which might have prevailed on the campus prior to July 5 was dispelled on the evening of that date at the "sob buster" which was held on the Athletic field. The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. and the Athens Chamber of Commerce were the sponsors of this huge joy producer which was attended by almost 1,500 summer school students.

Community singing, consisting of popular and college songs, was conducted by Prof. T. N. Hoover. Judge Sayre, '88, presented the memorial proposition to the students and told about the plans which the alumni are sponsoring. The Alumni Secretary spoke along similar lines. After the speeches the students divided up into counties and played any games they devised. "Eskimo pies" were provided for refreshments.

First Convocation of Summer School

Demonstrating the most acute need of Ohio University for an auditorium large enough to hold its student convocations, the first formal exercises of the Summer School of 1922 were held Wednesday, June 21.

Of the 1923 students enrolled not one-half were able to gain admission to the hall. Thirty minutes prior to the Chapel hour the auditorium was filled and those coming from 8:30 classes found the corridors thronged and were forced to turn away.

The exercises, which were brief, were conducted by President Bryan. A most hearty and sincere welcome was extended to the students of the Summer School and the gratification of the authorities and the faculty expressed in seeing so many enrolled who are interested in carrying on the educational processes of the state.

Announcements of interest to the new students were made by Dr. Byran, Dean Voight and Rev. Bond, the Student Pastor.

Following the announcements, Helen Bowles, '22, and Fred Lee Tom, '14, very delightfully rendered a duet, "Love Divine All Love Excelling", by Stainer. These popular singers were enthusiastically received and forced to acknowledge an encore.

The convocation was adjourned by Dr. Bryan after a few words of instruction to those present on the campus for the first time.

Interesting Census

Dean Voight and Rev. Bond, Student Pastor, have just given out some rather interesting statistics gleaned from the census taken in connection with the Summer School registration. The total registration for the first five weeks term was 1,923; 1,511 girls and 412 boys. The vocational preferences expressed were as follows:

MEN

Teaching	71%
Medicine and Dentistry	5%
Business	4%
Engineering	3%
Law	2½%
Ministry	1½%
All others (inc. Coaching, Chemistry, Music, Journalism, etc.)	1%
Undecided	10%
	<hr/> 100%

WOMEN

Teaching	93%
Undecided	4%
All others (inc. Music, Business, Med- icine, Psychological Research, Arts, Settlement Work, pursuing mis- sions, Chemistry, Dietetics, etc.) ...	3%
	<hr/> 100%

The teaching profession was, in the case of both men and women, the objective of the majority of the students. The religious and church preferences were as follows:

Methodist Episcopal	845
Christian	222
Presbyterian	209
Catholic	122
Baptist	114
United Brethren	57
Lutheran	44
No preference and no membership....	25
Unaccounted for	156
All other denominations	129
	<hr/> 1923

The four Protestant churches having the greatest number of students are joined with the University, in the support of a student pastor. The student pastor is advisor to the Y. M. C. A. and the religious director of student life. Rev. Bond is a graduate of Colgate University and of Crozier Theological Seminary, where he was a Phi Beta Kappa man. He has met with unusual success and is very popular with the student body.

Wood to Again Head Alumni

The annual meeting of the Board of Control of the Ohio University Alumni Association was held in the Alumni Secretary's office Monday, June 12, with Mr. Craig as chairman and Darrell Moore, secretary. Other members present were Carl D. Sheppard, of Akron; Mrs. Elizabeth Beatty, Huntington, W. Va.; James DeForest

A general discussion followed, in which various suggestions were made looking toward a better Ohio University.

Adjournment.

Death Invades Ohio Faculty

Dean W. W. McIntire of School of Education is Called

Ohio University is mourning the death of W. W. McIntire, dean of the Normal College, which occurred at Norwood, Ohio, Sunday morning, July 9, from enlargement of the heart muscles and complications. During his two years' connection with the University Dean McIntire made a host of friends, who were shocked to learn of his death. In conference with President E. B. Bryan shortly after the first news of the death, Dr. Bryan said that he had been impressed during his association with Dean McIntire by four characteristics—his industry, his absolute honesty, his fearlessness, and his generosity. "The loss of Dean McIntire", he said, "will be keenly felt by the University officials because he filled an important office with distinct credit".

Ohio University was represented at the funeral at Norwood by Dean McIntire's secretary, Miss May Harris, Professor Frank B. Dilley, and President Bryan. The services were held at the family home in Norwood and interment made in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati.

BORN AT WOOSTER

Warren Wallace McIntire was born at Wooster, Ohio, July 13, 1869, and at an early age began the practice of his chosen profession of teaching as a country school teacher. After alternate years of teaching and studying, Mr. McIntire graduated from the University of Wooster in 1896 with the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy. For several years thereafter he was engaged as representative of the book publishing departments of the John Church Company at Cincinnati and later of the American Book Company.

BECAME DEAN IN 1920

In 1902 he again entered the public service as principal of Norwood High School, Norwood, Ohio. Mr. McIntire remained in this position over a period of eighteen years, resigning in 1920 to come to Athens as Dean of the Normal College, now known as the School of Education, of Ohio University.

Dean McIntire was an incessant student of school administration and during his long association with the profession assumed a position of leadership in Ohio among the various teachers' associations, and was largely instrumental in writing and preparing the teachers' retirement bill. Dean McIntire was early made one of a committee to administer the pension system, a position he held until his death.

M. A. AT COLUMBIA

Columbia University granted him his Master of Arts degree several years ago, Dean McIntire having specialized there along the lines of school administration.

Mr. McIntire was prominently identified with the Ohio State Teachers' Association; he was active in the Cincinnati Schoolmasters' Club and the Hamilton County Teachers' Association up until the time of his coming to Ohio University. He has been a member of the National Educational Association since 1895, and for the past few years has been state chairman for Ohio. It was while attending the meeting of this body at Chicago last February that Mr. McIntire first felt the effects of his late illness which forced him to remain at his home during the spring. In May he recovered sufficiently to return to his old home at Norwood, where he gradually grew weaker and death ensued.

Dean McIntire is survived by his wife, three sons, and one daughter.

Dr. Martzolf Seriously Ill

Encouragement Comes From Bedside

Word from the bedside of Dr. C. F. Martzolf, late secretary of the Ohio University Alumni Association, is of an encouraging nature.

Dr. Martzolf is loved and respected by thousands of alumni and former students, among whom and in whose interests he has worked unceasingly for many years. He is known to perhaps more Ohio University alumni than any other man in an official connection with the institution. He was largely instrumental in bringing about the various local chapters of the association. For many years he was the guiding power and spirit of all alumni work at Ohio University. Dr. Martzolf's arduous labors incident to the planning and initiating of the Alumni Memorial Campaign have in great measure contributed to bring about his present state of ill health. The last months of his active service at the University were marked by a great interest in alumni affairs. It is with a great sense of appreciation and gratitude for the work which Dr. Martzolf has done that the new secretary steps into his place to build upon the foundation which his predecessor has so well laid.

Dr. Martzolf's work in the department of History has been ably carried on by Mrs. Martzolf. It is expected that Dr. Martzolf will be sufficiently recovered by the beginning of the fall term so that he may resume his duties as professor of History.

Friends in every state in the union will join in hoping for the ultimate and complete recovery of Dr. Martzolf.

Remarks of Respect

Ohio University

Athens, Ohio

The faculty of Ohio University desires to record its high appreciation of the late Dean W. W. McIntire, who, coming to us two years ago, by his force of character as a man, and his ability as an administrator, won from the first the high regard of his associates and of the students. He always stood for high standards of scholarship and conduct; without seeking popularity he became popular, because of his honesty, courtesy, and inflexible principles of justice.

The State at large recognized his leadership in the passing of the law relative to the Teachers' Retirement Fund. In this movement he was an out-standing leader and later an official of the Board. In our field of labor we most highly appreciate the impress of his personality in elevating the standards of the College of Education, and feel that in his death the University suffers a real loss, not only of a friend, but of an executive of fine qualities of leadership.

ON THE CAMPUS

New Sorority on Campus

A new sorority has been installed at Ohio University since the last issue of the Bulletin. It is the Lambda chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon. The installation was in charge of the grand officers, who were here for the occasion. The initiates were Jane Allen, Dorothy and Geraldine Izant, Helen Phillips, Violet Schumaker, Mildred Mansfield, Neva Lewis, and Grace Walker.

Europe on a Bicycle

Merle Atkinson, '22, reports that despite a few belligerent Irishmen and wild-eyed "Reds", that Europe is still on the map and doing business. Merle ought to know, as he returned in June from a tour of inspection. Atkinson was a senior and cut short a vacation trip in order to return to graduate. He wanted to make sure of that "official release" from the University. It is understood that all methods and modes of travel were indulged in.

Columbia Picking up

The following Ohio University folks have decided to travel east this summer and do a little advanced work at Columbia University: Anna Pickering, '14, Harold Mardis, '17, Helen Leech, '20, and Elizabeth Beatty, '17. The first three named, together with Russell H. Rupp, are members of the Athens High School faculty. We have heard of a number of other Ohio University people who are going to Columbia this summer. It looks like a big year for the eastern school.

Faculty Members Named

President Bryan appointed as the faculty representatives on the Campus Activity Advisory Board of the Men's Union, Dean Chubb, Professors Mackinnon, Cooper, Gullum, and Gamertsfelder, and as faculty representatives on the Athletic Board, Director Bird (who will come next year), Assistant Coach Grover, Professors Mackinnon, Jones, and Jefferson.

Department of Journalism

How would you like to see a department of Journalism established at Ohio University? The official student publication, The Green and White, is one of the best college weeklies in the country, but that it could be strengthened with a trained reportorial force there can be no doubt. Ohio University also needs a Publicity Bureau. Why not let that be a part of the new department? The Board of Control of the Alumni Association recently passed a resolution recommending the introduction of a course in journalistic writing looking forward to better campus and alumni publications. If the Alumni want it—say so—and we'll get it.

Y. W. C. A. Eaglesmere

Ten Ohio University co-eds, with Dean Voigt, attended the annual Young Women's Christian Association Conference held at Eaglesmere, Pa., June 20th to June 30th. Those attending were: Mary Bean, Frieda Chapman, Katherine Dague, Jennie Polley, Mary Henderson, Goldie Bowlus, Marjorie Wiehart, Hester South, and Dean Voigt.

Varsity Cheer Leader

Five contenders for the position of Varsity Cheer Leader for the season of 1922-23 tried out at a June convocation. The Athletic Advisory Board of the Men's Union will elect the leader, who will have three assistants.

New Honor Society

A chapter of Delta Phi Delta, Honorary Art sorority, was installed May 22, with the initiation of nine members of the Art Department. The members are: Donna Tebay, Janice Hahn, Vada Dartt, Grace Sewell, Elizabeth Walker, Opal Cooley, Grace McGrath, Helen Dill, and Sina Sidwell.

The Evans Latin Prize

Three excellent Latin students contested this year for the prize known as the Daffyd J. Evans Latin Prize. Nellie Stansbury, Carl Geis, and Gladys McKinnie were the competitors. The honor was won by Miss Stansbury. The administrators of the Prize Fund are still anxious to receive a few more subscriptions.

New Officers

The Ohio University chapter of the American Association of University Professors, at its last meeting of the academic year, elected the following officers: President, Dr. W. L. Gard; Vice-President, Prof. L. J. Addicott; Secretary-Treasurer, Prof. W. H. Cooper.

Donation to Fund

The Home Economics Club recently voted to donate $25 to the French Scholarship Fund. Miss Petetot, of Paris, France, is the present beneficiary of the fund.

Delta Tau Delta Cup

James O. Trone, '22, Portsmouth, Ohio, was honored by the members of his fraternity, Beta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta, by being selected as the student having exhibited the greatest leadership and ability during the past school year. Mr. Trone's name will be engraved on the "Chapter Leadership Cup."

'10 Preserved

The Alumni Secretary rescued from the debris of the fallen "Beech" the knot which had been cemented up by the class of 1910 and which bore the class numeral, '10. It is to be mounted on a shield and will hang as a plaque in the alumni office.

Sigs to Build

The Sigma Pi fraternity is planning to build a new house on Park Place, opposite Carnegie Library. The home will be of the Mount Vernon style, with four pillars across the front of the house. The cost is estimated at $22,000.

Same Old Stove

The room in East Wing now occupied by one of the offices of the Alumni Department is that which was used thirty years ago by Judge David H. Thomas, Marietta, and Dr. John E. Snow, Chicago, as a dormitory room. Dr. Snow recently pointed out the spot where the old cast iron heating stove stood. He related an incident of his college days, when he and "Dave" were disturbed by a knock on the door. Opening it, an old, white-haired gentleman stepped into the room. After a lengthy survey of the room and its furnishings, the gentleman remarked, "By crackey! It's the same old stove". He had been a former tenant years before.

The Silver Mirror

To choose the three most popular co-eds at Ohio University, an election was held in June. The following girls were chosen and honored by having their pictures placed in the Silver Mirror of the Athena annual: Isabel Sherrard, Huntington, W. Va.; Jane Dew, Athens, Ohio, and Lucille Crouch, Huntington, W. Va. Gilbert Shaver, Cheshire, Ohio; Emma Jane Helsel, St. Marys, Ohio, and Jennie May Cooley, Chicago, Ill., were selected as being the three best campus citizens.

Campus Views

Did you like the pictures in the Campaign Booklet, "Old and Great and Loyal"? They are the work and the property of Edward Holt Eves, a former Ohio University student. The scenes were well chosen from among the many beautiful spots about the campus and the pictures are quite the finest that have ever been published. If you did not get your copy of the booklet, just drop a card to the Alumni Secretary and he will be glad to mail you one. A much larger collection of Mr. Eves' pictures is to be found in the 1922 edition of the Athena annual.

Four Quarter System

The present administration has under advisement the "Four Quarter" system of terms similar to that existing in many of the larger universities. It is possible that the four-quarter scheme may be given a trial at Ohio University in the near future.

With the Faculty—Past and Present

Dr. James P. Porter, of the Psychology Department, and Dr. Raymer McQuiston, of the Department of English, new additions to the Ohio University faculty, have arrived on the campus. Dr. Porter is meeting a few of the summer school classes, while Dr. McQuiston is engaged in the almost hopeless task of finding a home in Athens.

"History as It is Made and as It is Written" is the title of an article appearing in the June number of the Ohio Teacher over the name of Dr. C. W. Super.

Prof. L. J. Addicott of the Civil Engineering Department, has been made Supervisor of Grounds and Buildings. All changes and repair work, as well as all new construction, will be done under his supervision.

From a Washington, D. C., newspaper comes the information that Miss Elizabeth Hallam Bohn, former head of the Home Economics department, Ohio University, is the first woman permitted to speak before the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce Advertising Managers' meeting in Chicago recently. In addition to a special department in many prominent newspapers throughout the country, Miss Bohn is a lecturer on Industrial Welfare subjects at New York University. Prior to her present work she was instructor of foods and cooking in Teachers College, Columbia University.

Miss Marie Louise Stahl remained in Athens during part of the summer vacation to supervise the removal of her department from the third floor of Ewing Hall, where it has been for many years, to the second floor of Music Hall. Music Hall has been refinished inside; sky-lights placed in the roof, and various other changes made for the accommodation of the Art department. The building has been re-named and will in the future be known as the Fine Arts Building.

Prof. F. S. Coultrap represented the president and faculty of Ohio University at the funeral of Hon. L. J. Fenton, Winchester, Ohio, June 30.

Professors Chubb, Borger, McKinnon, Morton and Jefferson may very frequently be found on the golf course of the Athens Country Club. The city of Athens has a new course which is the equal of that of any city its size. Many students and faculty members are enrolled in the membership of the club. Dr. Borger recently won a Thursday afternoon competition and is entered in the competition for the club championship.

Professor Mead, Department of Education, Ohio Wesleyan; Superintendent Skinner, Marietta, and Superintendent Stailey, Athens, are members of the Summer School faculty in the School of Education.

Miss Emma S. Waite, for many years the principal of the Ohio University Training School, is to retire from active service in the university with the close of the summer session. Miss Waite has planned a year's rest and recreation. After a few weeks' visit with her sister in Evanston, Ill., she will visit her home in Potsdam, N. Y., until January 1, when she contemplates either the Raymond Whitcomb trip around the world or a sojourn in Florida or California. Miss Waite, in her years of service as head of the Training School has directed the training of thousands of elementary teachers. All of whom will wish for her a very pleasant period of recreation.

Miss Amy Weihr, Critic Teacher of the Training School, is spending the summer touring Europe. She is visiting many of the principal European cities and will see the Passion Play at Oberammergau. She will return to resume her work in the fall.

Miss Minnie Dean, formerly a member of the faculty in the School of Commerce and now of Washington, D. C., returned to Ohio University at commencement time to receive her Bachelor of Arts degree.

A recent communication from Dr. and Mrs. Treudley tells interestingly of their visit in Holland. The Treudley party went to Holland after a tour of the British Isles. In Holland they have visited Rotterdam, Delft, Amsterdam, The Hague, and Schveningen, in addition to many of the picturesque Dutch villages. Two of the palaces of Queen Wilhemina and an ancient jail were described in the letter. From Holland the Treudleys expect to go to Belgium and then to Paris. They expect to sail for the United States August 29.

Mid-Summer Meeting At Cedar Point

During the Ohio State Teachers' Association meeting at Cedar Point, the Alumni of Ohio University came together for a dinner at the Breakers Hotel. It was a most pleasant gathering of many who had not met in many years. After enjoying a good dinner, songs, stories and speeches were indulged in. County Superintendent, Charles W. Cookson, of Columbus, Ohio, was the principal speaker. He discussed the aims of the University under the new small Board of Trustees.

The New Gymnasium

Work to Begin Soon

Tentative plans for the new $200,000 Ohio University Gym, prepared by Frank L. Packard, of Columbus, have been approved and bids on construction are now being advertised for. Actual construction will probably be gotten under way during the month of August.

It is planned to make the new structure one of the finest of its kind in the state. The building will be located on what is known as the Golden lot on President Street. It will face upon this street and from the rear will overlook Ohio Field and the beautiful valley of the Hocking River. A long flight of wide stairs will descend from the rear of the gymnasium to the bridge level below, thus providing easy and rapid access to the Athletic Field.

The building will be 106 feet wide and 160 feet deep. In the basement there will be two hand ball courts, a wrestling room, a corrective gym, a training room, team rooms for the visiting and home teams, shower rooms, a swimming pool, storage rooms for all equipment, together with locker rooms to accommodate one thousand men.

The playing floor will be on the first ground floor and will be 102 feet by 124 feet—one of the largest gym floors in the state. It is amply large for three small basketball courts to be used at one time during tournaments and for one large court for intercollegiate contests. The gymnasium will be equipped with every mechanical device designed for the physical correction or development of Ohio University men. On the first floor there will also be offices for the Director of the School of Physical Education, the Coaches and Instructors, and examination rooms where all students, upon entering college, will be subjected to a rigid physical examination. In the main corridor there will be two large trophy cases. Entrance to the building will be from President Street. Stairways on either side of the entrance will lead to the second floor. The feature of the second floor will be the running track and observation gallery. The track will be ten feet wide and substantial enough to stand the strain of a tournament gathering. Offices and team rooms will also be provided for on this floor as well as the third.

The new gymnasium will be devoted exclusively to the interests of the men. The old gym is to be turned over to the women, who will be afforded an unexcelled opportunity for physical training and development.

Athletics

Prospects Bright for Strong Teams Next Season

Prospects are bright for the 1922-23 athletic season at Ohio University. Football will first occupy the thoughts of all in September, and with the ten "O" men eligible for the team next year and a wealth of real material, Ohio University should make a good showing in the Ohio conference.

The Green and White will open the football season with Wilmington College. Four other non-conference games will be played against St. Xavier, Bethany, West Virginia and Marietta.

Four conference teams will be met. Baldwin-Wallace, September 20; Denison at Athens a week later; Western Reserve at Cleveland, October 31 and Otterbein at Athens on November 18.

FINE BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

Closely following the close of the football season, basketball will make its appearance. With practically the entire team which finished second in the Ohio Conference this season back next year, a fine team should again represent the University. Burkett, Bell, Cowden, Odaffer, Herron and Littler are the upperclassmen who will be ready to perform on the floor for Ohio University, while there is a great deal of new material to be developed. The following games have been scheduled for next year:

Cincinnati at Athens, January 6.
Ohio Northern at Athens, January 19.
St. Xavier at Cincinnati, January 26.
Cincinnati at Cincinnati, January 27.
Reserve at Cleveland, February 3.
Oberlin at Oberlin, February 5.
St. Xavier at Athens, February 10.
Western Reserve at Athens, March 2.
Wittenberg at Springfield, March 6.

TO CONTINUE TRACK

Track was again revived this year and a creditable showing was made, so next year's track possibilities loom very bright. Cowden, Odaffer, Bell, Moritz and Powell, who won points this year will be back again. There is also a number of Freshman trackers who will be eligible next season.

This year a baseball team was built from new material. With this season's experience, the squad should be a strong contender for championship honors. Ohio State will again play at Athens next year on Decoration Day, but no further games as yet have been scheduled.

Wrestling will also occupy a place on next year's sport calendar at Ohio University. Thor has some fine teams booked and with the material at hand the prospects are the best in several seasons.

Never have the prospects for winning teams been brighter. Every sport will have varsity men back to form the nucleus of the teams. A coaching staff, consisting of Finsterwald, Grover and the new Athletic Director, O. C. Bird, will handle the athletic squads next year.

The first fall number of the magazine will have the athletic situation in detail to date. It may be possible to outline the plans for the new school of Physical Education at that time. Special attention will be given to the athletic section from the point of view of the alumnus.

"Old Beech" to be Saved for Ohio Alumni

Will be Worked up into Souvenirs
by Bentley Shop

The ancient, historic beech tree in front of East Wing on the campus, under whose branches students have gathered for many years and beneath which traditional ceremonies have been annually observed by honorary societies, will be seen no more. That grand old tree, perhaps the oldest on the campus, has thrown forth its last foliage and only the trunk yet remains, patiently awaiting the woodman's ax. Tree surgery and loving care did not avail to preserve it.

The Alumni Association, however, has taken steps to have the tree forever cherished and remembered. It has authorized Harold J. Bentley, of Ye Bentley Craft Shop, Athens, Ohio, whose shop has been turning out all sorts of hand-carved and hand-made novelties from wood, to turn the sound wood from the tree into souvenirs for the Alumni who return to Athens for the annual commencement exercises.

Bentley has produced some splendid specimens of his craft from the limbs of the old tree. They are on display at the Logan Book Store, where Alumni may secure them. The souvenirs include paper knives, bookends, jewel boxes, and many other useful articles.
